Description:

Review "harrowing biography... Philps tells Vanya's often shocking tale with sensitivity but while this story is ultimately a happy one, Philps reveals that there remain about 800,000 children in Russie still trapped in homes such as Baby House 10." SUNDAY TIMES 24.01.10 "deeply moving, frequently enraging and ultimately uplifting account of how a seriously disabled child blessed with an unquenchable spirit triumphs over adversity with the aid of good-hearted people... compelling, often haunting book..." DAILY MAIL -22.01.10 "miracle story... The book ends with a sober codicil;

there are still five thousand children in Russia condemned to bed regimes." IRISH TIMES - 12.01.10

Review 'A harrowing account of abuse and suffering in post-Soviet Russia's childcare system.'
SUNDAY TIMES 'An inspirational and heart-wrenching read.'
BIG ISSUE IN THE NORTH 'An against-all-odds story of light in a black world.'
HUDDERSFIELD DAILY EXAMINER 'Incredibly moving and deeply disturbing...a book which once read will not be easily forgotten.'
